

Astaro Security Gateway 320 Receives Highest Honors in SC Magazine UTM Group Test

Burlington, MA (6th March, 2008) – Astaro Corporation (www.astaro.com), a leader in delivering unified threat management (UTM) security appliances, today announced that the Astaro Security Gateway (ASG) 320 has received five-out-of-five stars in every category of the UTM group test, featured in the March 2008 edition of SC Magazine. Categories highlighted in the review include features, performance, ease of use, documentation, support and value for money.

Jan Hichert, CEO and co-founder of Astaro, commented, "SC Magazine reviews are widely-respected as an independent benchmark of the capabilities of security products. We've worked hard to ensure that the ASG is the best UTM appliance available on the market and are delighted that SC Magazine has recognized our achievement."

Highlights from the text of the review, which compared Astaro's ASG 320 appliance with nine other solutions, include; "A fully loaded gateway security device at a not so fully loaded price," "It could become the only security appliance needed for total protection" and "Against: Nothing we found."

SC Magazine is the world's largest dedicated IT security publication having served the IT security industry for over 15 years. For more information visit: www.scmagazine.com.
